

Fang-hua LIN

Silver Professor

Department of Mathematics, Courant Institute of Mathematical Sciences
New York University

Past appointments:

Professor, University of Chicago, 1988-1989

Courant Institute Instructor, New York University, 1985-1987

Other appointments:

Professor, New York University, 1989-present

Education:

Ph.D., University of Minnesota, 1985

Research interests:

Analysis and Partial Differential Equations, Calculus of Variations and Geometric Measure Theory

Service:

ICM: Program Committee(Sectional), Chern Madel Selection Committee

AMS: Centennial Fellowship Committee, Fan-Chung Fellowship Committee, M.Bocher Prize Committee

NSF: Various NSF Panels

Many Editorial Boards and Review Panels

Honors and awards:

A.P.Sloan Research Fellow, 1988

NSF-Presidential Young Investigator, 1989-1994

NSFC- Outstanding Young Researcher Award, 1998

Chang Jiang Chair Professor (Ministry of Education of China), 1999

AMS 2002 Bocher Prize, 2002

Silver Professor of Mathematics, New York University, 2002

Oversea Assessor for Chinese Academy of Science, 2002

Elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, 2004

S.S.Chern Prize at ICCM, 2004

1000-Talents Short-Program, 2011